Phenomenological Approaches to Physics
QBism and Phenomenology, Compared and Contrasted

Monday, June 15, 2020
9:00-9:30 Opening Address: Karin Axelsen (Dean, Faculty of Arts and Sciences at LiU)
9:30-11:00 Christopher Fuchs (University of Massachusetts, Boston): QBism, Where Next?
11:00-11:30 Coffee break
11:30-12:30 Florian Boge (RWTH Aachen): (Something like) eidetic variation as a supplement to (some version of) QBism
12:30-1:30 Arezoo Islami (San Francisco State University): Wigner, QBism and Phenomenology
1:30-3:00 Lunch
3:00-4:30 Thomas Ryckman (Stanford University): A phenomenological approach to the Born rule
4:30-5:00 Coffee Break
5:00-6:00 Kevin Mager (Loyola University Chicago): QBism and Perception’s Silent Thesis: An Attempt at a Phenomenological Grounds for Probability and Approximation
6:00-7:00 Nathaniel Burke (San Francisco State University): Constructive Empiricism and Husserl’s World of Science

Tuesday, June 16, 2020
9:30-11:00 Rüdiger Schack (Royal Holloway, University of London): Wigner’s Friend and QBism’s Copernican Principle
11:00-11:30 Coffee break
11:30-12:30 Philip Goyal (SUNY Albany): Informational Reconstruction of Quantum Theory, and its Implications for the Development of a Philosophical Understanding of Quantum Theory
12:30-1:30 Tina Bilban (Institute Nova Revija): Bohr and Husserl visit the QBist chambers
1:30-3:00 Lunch
3:00-4:30 Michel Bitbol (ENS, Paris): Now in Quantum Physics and Phenomenology
4:30-5:00 Coffee Break
5:00-6:00 Laura de la Tremblaye (University of Geneva): From William James to Husserl: reexamining philosophical implications of QBism
6:00-7:00 Delicia Kamins (Stony Brook University): Is Denying Objectivity a More Pragmatic Approach to Quantum Mechanics?
Wednesday, June 17, 2020

9:30-11:00  Piet Hut (Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton): Towards a Fully Empirical Science and Technology

11:00-11:30  Coffee break

11:30-12:30  Jacques Pienaar (University of Massachusetts, Boston): QBism and the embodied Agent

12:30-1:30  Moritz Kriegleder (University of Vienna): The enactive perspective of the QBism Hero

1:30-3:00  Lunch

3:00-4:30  Robert Crease (Stony Brook University): Overcoming the “Phenomenological Dilemma” in Quantum Mechanics

4:30-5:00  Coffee Break

5:00-6:00  Paul Rubery (Stony Brook University): From Fixation to Fulfillment: Husserlian Phenomenology and QBist Notions of Belief

6:00-7:00  Mahdi Khalili (Sharif University of Technology, Tehran): From a Phenomenological Perspective to a Perspectival Realism

7:00  Closing Address (Philipp Berghofer, Jan-Åke Larsson & Harald Wiltsche)

The conference is organized with support from the Austrian Science Fund (FWF), the Society for Phenomenology and the Philosophy of Science (SPSS), the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at LiU, and Riksbankens Jubileumsfond (RJ).
