

Inaugural Workshop: The Interdisciplinary Phenomenology Hub (IPH)

When: September 20-21, 2023

Where: Campus Valla, Room KY31/KY35, Key Building

Wednesday

9.00-9.15	Welcome!
9.15-10.15	Presentation 1: Marjolein de Boer (Tilburg University). Sensitizing gender-sensitive medicine through empirical philosophical phenomenology
10.20-11.20	Presentation 2: Philipp Berghofer (University of Graz). From Phenomenology to Physics: Agent-Based Approaches to Quantum Mechanics
11.20-13.00	Lunch
13.00-14.00	Presentation 3: Presentation 7: Eleanor Byrne (Linköping University). Narrative Deference.
14.00-15.00	Presentation 4: Māra Grīnfelde (University of Latvia). Embodied Aspects of Disease Prevention: A Case of Vaccine Hesitancy
15.00-15.30	Coffee break
15.30-16.30	Presentation 5: Felipe León (Linköping University). Intersubjectivity, sociality, institution: Perspectives from Merleau-Ponty
16.30-17.30	Presentation 6: Kristin Zeiler (Linköping University). Agency – Intercorporeal and Entangled? On a Felt Sense of How to Attend to One’s Cognition as One Ages
	Dinner in town

Thursday

- 8.30-9.30 Presentation 7: Rebecca Böhme (Linköping University).
Experiencing the Self through Touch
- 9.30-10.30 Presentation 8: Sarah Bloem (Linköping University). Critical phenomenology and the normative body – a turn to disability and neurodiversity

10.30-11 Coffee

11.00-12.00 Presentation 8: Richard Levi (Linköping University and Region Östergötland). What can a clinical neuroscientist hope to get from phenomenology beyond descriptive psychology? A sincere question from a perplexed neurologist

12.00-13.00 Presentation 9: Harald Wiltsche (Linköping University).
Mathematical Modeling as Sense-Bestowal

Lunch

The idea of the workshop is to bring together everyone interested in the newly founded Interdisciplinary Phenomenology Hub (IPH), at Linköping University and beyond. Most welcome to the workshop! Further, on September 21, everyone is most welcome to join for dinner in town (at one's own expense).

Register by sending an email to harald.wiltsche@liu.se or kristin.zeiler@liu.se Everyone is welcome!

Learn more about IPH here: <https://liu.se/en/research/phenomenology-of-the-life-natural-and-social-sciences>.